Get Healthy with Audrey:

What to do While Social Distancing

- Get outside and be active. Fresh air and exercise are good for you. Remember to keep 6 ft. between you and others and wash your hands when you get home.
- Reach out to friends and family. During this time, you can stay in touch through phone calls or video chats.
- Virtually travel. Search the TV or internet for virtual tours of zoos, national parks and museums.
- Take time to relax. Listen to calming music, watch movies, read some books, pray or meditate.
- Learn something new. Take an online course on an interesting subject like a foreign language or computer skills.
- Take a break from the news. Although it is important to keep up with the news, take some time each day to unplug from devices and the TV.

- Start writing. Keep a journal, write letters, cards or email. Expressing yourself can be a good way to reduce stress.
- And here's a bonus tip: Laugh. And cry. It's okay to feel whatever you're feeling right now. Be kind to yourself and those around you. With care and a little time, you'll get through this.
